

SEATTLE

YOUR GUIDE TO SEATTLE'S MOST 'SECRET' BARS

COURTESY OF SMITH TOWER

By CHONA KASINGER

Hey. Hey you. Come here. We have this secret that we've been dying to get off of our chest. You know how Seattle has all these amazing happy hours? And a ton of phenomenal establishments to drink wine in? Well, we've also got a few secret bars that -- if you know the right people -- you can get into without a hitch. Lucky for you... we're those people.

COURTESY OF SMITH TOWER

SMITH TOWER TEMPERANCE CAFÉ AND BAR

SAVE THIS PLACE

PIONEER SQUARE

Opened over the summer, and located 35 floors up on the recently renovated observation deck of the city's oldest skyscraper, this sedate roaring '20s-inspired spot has windows that stretch from the floor to its dark, richly detailed ceiling, and provide stunning views Seattle's skyline, and Elliott Bay. It also has a menu that pays respect to the Northwest via things like fresh Pacific Oysters, and a Beecher's grilled cheese sandwich -- as well as the Tower's Asian influence by offering a selection of Chinese dumplings, banh mi sandwiches, and more. Get there before 8PM -- that's when the last elevator heads up.

How to get in: The only way to get up to Temperance is by purchasing a Legends of Smith Tower ticket for $12 (or $10 with a WA state ID) that includes a self-guided tour through historical exhibits, films, and interactive stations. Get the ticket at Provisions General Store on the ground floor of Smith Tower.