Celebrate Jazz Appreciation Month at Smith Tower

April 9, 2018 - by Lesley Haenny - Leave a Comment

Swing on up to the Smith Tower Observatory and bar where Hot Rhythm Club presents a series of Monday night jazz concerts for your listening and imbibing pleasure, featuring a variety of jazz styles and influences through the decades.

The series showcases some of Seattle's best Jazz musicians with bands led by Marina Albero, Greg Ruby, Jacob Zimmerman, and finishing off the series is the Garfield High School Jazz band! Grab a cocktail and a bite, take in the incredible view, and join the Smith Tower as they celebrate the history and future of jazz.

While you are listening to the smooth sounds of jazz, check out Smith Tower's new barrel aging program! From a traditional Old Fashioned or Manhattan, to other favorites on rotation, such as signature Port of New York or Antiquado d'Menta, barrel-aging adds a new depth of flavor to any cocktail in a one-to-two month process. Their charred oak barrels are carefully curated to influence flavors from one batch to the next and ensure that no two barrel-aged cocktails are the same!
